Flea Market Fabulous: A Historic Idea for Modern Success

"Consumers are not loyal to cheap commodities. They crave the unique, the remarkable, and the human. Sure, you can always succeed for a while with the cheapest, but you earn your place in the market with humanity and leadership... Those are the only two choices. Win by being more ordinary, more standard, and cheaper. Or win by being faster, more remarkable, and more human."

– Seth Godin, Linchpin

Merriam-Webster's Dictionary defines the flea market as an open-air market for secondhand articles and antiques. Since their inception in Roman times, open air markets are the earliest form of commerce across class lines and cultures. Today Flea markets not only offer a venue to buy and sell new and used goods. They also come together to create a wealth of diversity.

Curious. Rogers Community Auction and Open Air Market is more than just the place for great finds, food, and fun. Our award winning market offer an up close and "hands on" look at many unique antiques, collectibles, and crafted items for the curious of all ages as well. Where else can you inspect an authentic 1940's full size ballpark baseball scoreboard, scarab rings and bracelets, a 1950's jukebox, late 1800's railroad bell and camel saddle all in one place? Whether you like valuable antiques, kitschy cool collectibles, or affordable options in brand new merchandise remember, it's not hoarding if your stuff is cool.

Hungry? An array of fresh produce, artisan and Amish baked goods, farm fresh eggs, cheese, meats, jarred goods and other grocery options offer an array of shopping options. In addition, our many concessions offering a variety of "fair food" in addition to our famous Amish doughnuts are a welcome treat during a market day.

Then and now Rogers Flea market offers the most affordable incubator to grow a new or established business. Today's vendors combine their point of sale presence at our well known market with savvy social media to grow their contacts, customer base and drive greater sales. As we enter our 64th year we have expanded our Friday Flea Market to include five select Saturdays as well. This opens the market to a new and ever growing customer and vendor pool. Enjoy our weekly Friday or select Saturday markets, our Monthly Consignment Auction the second Tuesday of each month, or our weekly Wednesday hay and grain auction. Rogers Community Auction and Open Air Market was founded on the idea of "bringing Buyer and Seller together" back in 1955 and that remains our ultimate goal today.

FLEA MARKET
ROGERS, OHIO
Fanatics

Flea Market Fanatics (FMF) Reality Show follows “the Steves,” Steve Swanson & Steve Kreider, as they help flea market patrons and vendors navigate the one-of-a-kind Rogers Community Auction to find and sell their treasures. Whether you’re an auction lover, a picker & flipper, an antiquer, a shopper, vendor & everything in-between you will find everything you’re looking for when you watch the Flea Market Fanatic television series!

Flea Market Fanatics features Rogers Community Auction, which is nestled in the hills of beautiful rural Ohio, and open every Friday year round. Rogers was not only voted the Best Flea Market in Ohio, it is also one of the biggest flea markets in the United States with five miles of market space, traversing the gravel walking paths between rail fences, barns, buildings, pavilions and a vast outdoor flea market that offers over 1600 vendor spaces. You will not only discover the entertaining shenanigans going on at the market, you’ll get a backstage pass to witness what it takes to keep the demanding daily operations of Rogers Community Auction running like a (mostly) well-oiled machine, and meet the interesting family that has run it since 1955.

Flea Market Fanatics is not just a show about long lost treasures, unique knick-knacks, weird, wild, and random stuff that you can buy and sell at a flea market, it also has a fun comedic edge with Co-Host and Cleveland Comedian Jess Faulstich as she gets to know the diverse people that populate the Roger Community Auction. And...you will definitely see a lot of celebrity guests at the market – you’ll never guess what celebrities are Flea Market Fanatics!! If you love everything about flea markets, then you will love the Flea Market Fanatics Reality Show!!!
